

Supporting and representing energy assessors and associated professionals nationwide

Proficiency exists to support the people who assess the energy efficiency of buildings and identify ways to improve them. These professionals in efficiency are absolutely essential to the country making the necessary progress towards achieving sustainability in buildings; itself a key part of the need to limit global warming and climate change.

Building upon foundations created by DCHI (originally formed as the Devon and Cornwall Home Inspectors Association), and whilst retaining a strong base in the Westcountry, Proficiency now encompasses a wider range of professions and supports members across the country.

For professionals

For the industry professional, Proficiency is an organisation which can provide you with support and continuing development. In addition, we work with other groups and organisations to enable harmonisation between the market place and the needs of the clients in an ever changing world.

The Proficiency (formerly DCHI) forum is known and respected throughout the industry as a place where Energy Assessors can gain peer support and obtain answers to technical questions, outside the hours that accreditation scheme help-desks are open.

Support

Here when you need us with our peer support

Highly regarded industry forum

Extensive knowledge and experience you can draw upon

Help, advice and guidance

Representation

The national voice of energy assessors

Engaging with accreditation schemes and government departments on your behalf

Representing the interests of assessors on the conventions and other similar groups

Other Benefits

Industry leading Find A Member directory to generate enquiries for members

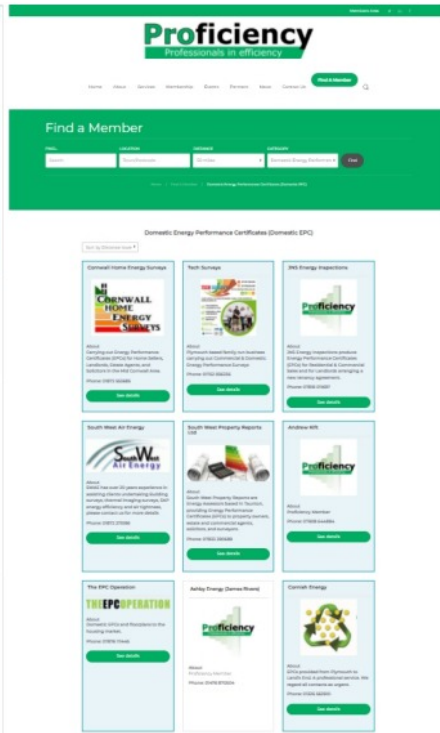

Access to free and reduced cost training or CPD

Discounts on software, training, CPD and registration fees with a number of organisations

Home

Public facing home page

Find a member

Searchable and filterable directory for generating local enquiries direct to members

Content

Relevant content pages

Click here for an overview of membership

For more detailed information click here

Join us now to take the first step towards a more successful future

Standard membership
just £60

Join Now

Premium membership
just £85